Plans for the New City Hail.

STOSITION TO BUILDING THE NEW CITY HABL IN THE PARK EXPRESSED.

A meeting of the committee of the Board of Councilmen to whom was referred the plans for the proposed new City Hall, was held on Thursday afternoon, to hear arguments thereon. These was a local city to hear arguments thereon. hear arguments thereon. There were two new plans exhibition, submitted by S. Ramsey and D. Hough.

Mr. Boaron spoke in reference to a plan of his, the sculiarties of which was that it had fronts on Broaday and Centre street, with connecting buildings on nambers street. This would give a great number of large rooms which might be subdivided afterwards it necessary. The building to be three stories high, the front being white marble and the sides and rear brown stone. This plan would be economical, as it would not be necessary to remove the present corner buildings for some time million dollars. It is also proposed to have a tower on Chambers street running up from the ground. Mr. L. J. Olmerkan proposed a plan of a building four steries high, facing on Broadway, Chambers and Centre streets; a high basement, receding from the street; on Broadway one hundred and two feet, on Chambers street, ninety rooms having a direct light; the building to be a white marble with a granite basis, and fire proof throughout: cost less than a million dollars, and to be built in two years. This plan includes six octagon towers, having rooms especially designed as court rooms.

Mr. D. Houder was rather extensive in his notions.

His plan included the whole of the Park, and by this

His plan included the whole of the Park, and by this means including every public want—Post Office, Law Courts, &c. By renting a portion of the premises the city could collect quite a large revenue.

The plan of Mr. THOMPSON was explained. It was to duplicate the present building, with corridors connecting.

Mr. Chas. F. Anderson proposed a building three stories high, of white marble, and to be a fine specimen of classification. Cont. 870, 000.

Mr. Balland's plan was to have a building the whole length of the Park on Chambers street, a round edifice for Pest Office connecting.

Mr. Raksur described his plan. It proposed a building of a hectagon shape, so that on whatever side the eye struck it, there would always be a front presented. The great argument in faver of this building it, that each room would have two windows in it.

Mr. Iza Bouckars followed, with a description of his new plan. It proposes to extend the present field one story higher, and then duplicate it on Breadway, and Centre and Chambers streets, connecting it on the corners. Over the vacuum, in the centre of the four buildings, he would place an immense dome, and ben-ath it he proposes a magnificent fountain. The cost of these buildings, he estimated, would be about $2,000,000.

Mr. Nines, at the request of the City Hall to Madison square. He said :—In 1824, the population of this city was about 200,000. It is now between 600,000 and 700,000 at least, probably more than 700,000. At this past rate of increase the Island of Manhattan will contain, thirty years hence, a population of about 1800,000 inhabitants. In fifteen years, the population will hardly be less than 1,200,000, densely crowded together upon this island, fourteen miles long. The encreachments of commercial business transactions will by that time have expelied the resident population from the lower end of the island at least one mile above the present City Hall. The whole population of 1,200,000 inhabitants will then reside from one to twelve miles distant from the park. The average distance, therefore, which these people having business to transact at the City Hall, will have to travel, will be over exix miles. What an exhibition of inconvenience, expense of time and money, is here presented. Does any one believe that hit is take of things would be tolerated. The municipal government would ascessarily be forced into the upper part of the island. Municipal government account and excessive the complete such as a sum of th union of Long lisand and Manhattan Island under the same administrative regime, with a single mayorally and a united Common Council, atrangers to the remote interests which they may be called to legislate upon? The folly of uniting these two great cities is too apparent to require further illustration. The idea itself is but a dream of some visionary brain, wholly unasquanted with the necessities of good city government, which, to be good, must necessarily be local, vigitant, everywhere present and effective. Is the city rich enough to throw away from three to five millions of dollars on a public edifice, which must be abandoned within a very few years? Every iax, payer answers no, and protests against such terms, that the general popular movement now making for a removal of the City Hall to Madison square has reference to an increase in the value of up-town property. Is it not well known that up-town property pays taxes, and heavy taxes too; and can it be denied that tax property located in the upper part of the city has a common right to all the direct and incidental pays taxes, and neavy taxes too, and can it be denied has tax property located in the upper part of the city has a common right to all the direct and incidental advantages of good municipal government? Is it not the imperative duty of our city fathers to promote, as far as in them lies, the prospective interest of the entire community over which they are called to rule, and thus anyment the value of taxable property, wherever it can be done without injury to acquired rights? The removal of the mayoralty and the executive offices can do no possible harm to a single lot owner in the lower part of the town; while, on the other hand; twould give an immediate stimulus to industry, so when needed in all the upper wards, to the common advintage of the city at large. Such a measure would tive a constantly increasing value to every lot above the Park, without diminishing the value of any below it, or in any way causing injury to any single individual littee on the Island. Owners of vacant lots, foreseeing that the upper wards are not to become a permanent super by the property by erecting edifices upon it, which in turn, would yield a constantly increasing and easily paid amount of taxes. As to the supposed obection to the ersection of a City Hall on Madison square, as they part of the inhabitants near it, a becoming regard or their characters, as high minded, patriotic and sublic spirited citizens, forbids any such supportion, especially in face of the fact that they have erected their splendid residences there in the full knowledge that the square itself had seen legally reserved for this especial purpose, no fine, the people of New York will not believe tilt they est, that the interests of Brooklyn and Jersey City have sore numerous or more eloquent advocates in the city overnment than will be found in favor of the prosperity four great metropolis. A candid and thorough examilation of this important subject can have but one solution, and that in favor of a removal of the municipal evernment to some approprists locati narks, Councilman Right stated that the committee were very serious to give all the parties interested in the location f the Hall a hearing, and they therefore adjourned the receedings until Monday afternoon, at half past two 'clock, when, we understand, the matter will again be n for dissursion.

THE MESCHALA VALLEY AND THE PACIFC ROAD.

THE MESCILLA VALLEY AND THE PACIFC ROAD.

The Austin State Gasette of the 10th inst., in noticing is fact that the United States and Mexican Commissioners have agreed on the initial point of the boundary tween the two countries, says. We are now in possesson of the whole country through which a railread in its latitude may be made. A friend of ours conscious with the expedition is of opinion that gold will found in the Messile Valley as is California, and looks swand to the day when a larger and cases permanent application will be settled in the new outskirts of civililion.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. MONEY MARKET.

The stock market was very much unsettled at the first board to-day. The leading fancy stocks were in about the usual demand. The sales were on the usual terms, pretty equally divided between buyer's and seller's option. The most prominent railroad stocks advanced. State stocks were rather dull and depressed to-day. At the first board Missouri 6's advanced | perkent; New York Central Railroad, 1; Eric Railroad, 4; Reading Railroad, 1; Louisiana 6's declined | per cent.; Delaware and Hudson, 1; Cumberland Coal, 4; Michigan Southern Railroad, 1; Michigan and Southern Construction, 1; Erie Railroad appears to be gradually, but steadily, improving. The purchases lately on foreign accounts have been to some extent, and the market has been very firm in consequence. Cumberland Coal has been heavy for some days past, and looks like settling down upon a lower basis. Its coal business does not amount to much just now. Reading Rail-road is moving upward again. It is, beyond all tern railroad stocks have not been active this season, and the probability is that they never will again command such prices as have heretofore ruled. The day for extravagant dividends has passed, and when brought down to their actual net earnings, the per cent on capital will be small. nothing more. Railroad bonds were in better de mand, at better prices. Erie, 1875, advanced | per cent; Illinois Central, ½. Nicaragus had an up ward tendency. Pennsylvania Coal fell off i per cent.

The steamship Asia, at Halifax from Liverpool brings seven days later intelligence from Europe. The political accounts do not amount to much. Nogotiations were in progress at Vienna, but nothing definite had transpired. Opinions were pretty equally balanced relative to the ultimate result of the conference. The commercial and financial ad vices are, on the whole, more favorable. Bread stuffs were improving, both in prices and demand Cotton was active, but prices were not sustained A large portion of the demand was from consumer.
The decline in quotations amounted to about one eighth of a penny per pound. Money matters wer decidedly easier, and the prospect of a reduction is the rate of interest was daily becoming stronger Consols had advanced one-half per cent. We she not get the Asia's mails before Sunday morning.

The transactions at the office of the Assistan Treasurer of this port to day, were as follows:— The warrants entered at the Treasury department, on the 28th inst., were :-

The quantity of coal shipped from Honesdaie during the season was 438,400 tons, of which 412,549 tons either reached Rondout or were sold at various points along the line of the cannal, the remainder, 25,807 tons, having been detained on its downward transit by the premature and unexpected closing in of the winter.

The Tribune of the 27th states that the prospect of an early opening of the canal is not good. The ice is quite thick upon it at Bridgeport, and upon the ice is drifted snow. It may be two weeks before boats are moving to any extent. In the meantime sugars and other groceries are being received in large quantities by the Illinois Central, by way of Equal to twenty per cent on the old stock. This result is likely to be realized beyond any ordinary contingency. In putting down the operating excontingency. In putting down the operating ex-penses, we have probably exceeded the actual cost full five per cent. Last year the current operating expenditures amounted to 47 per cent., when every-thing was at the highest mark. Labor, provisions, and all articles used in operating the road were very high, much higher than at present, and the company will save a great deal in this way. We think the gross earnings put down for 1855 will be walized, and we think the net earnings will be considerably larger than our estimate. Our calcula-tions for expenses are on a liberal scale, while those for earnings are within limits.
